Subject: Orroroo water quality project

I write in support of the installation of a pipeline to provide Orroroo with quality water before it is too late. The fact that people in Orroroo have rain water tanks is because we have to however this is somewhat adequate only when we have regular rain. Orroroo is prone to drought. The current bore supply is not reliable indefinitely and it is not suitable for drinking. Let's be proactive and not reactive when it is too late. A planned approach would be cheaper and reduce risks of an entire community left without water. Country people should not be prevented from equal services to metro. Thank you Joan Luckraft
